

Table of Contents

Forward		4
Acknowledgement		6
Table of Contents		9
Abbreviations		12
List of Tables		13
List of Figures		14
Introduction		15
References		21
Chapter-1	The Politics of Dependency (Dependent Politics of Bangladesh: Coercive or Self-Dependency?)	23
1.1.1	Abstract	23
1.1.2	Introduction	23
1.1.3	Dependency and the Situation in Bangladesh	24
1.1.4	Lack of Leadership Vision	26
1.1.4 (a)	Per Capita Income	26
1.1.4(b)	Population	27
1.1.4(c)	Sectoral Growth	28
1.1.4(d)	Aid Dependence and Domestic Resource Mobilization	29
1.1.5	Globalization	31
1.1.6	Corruption	32
1.1.7	Rhetoric Policies	34
1.1.7 (a)	Poverty Alleviation	34
1.1.7(b)	Unemployment	39
1.1.7(c)	Balance of Trade	41
1.1.8	Good Governance and Human Development	42
1.1.9	Conclusion	43
	References	44
Chapter-2	Democracy and Development Policy Making(Matching Democracy and Development Policy making in an aid-dependent Country: A study on the Public Policy making in Bangladesh)	47
2.1.1	Abstract	47
2.1.2	Introduction	47
2.1.3	Democratization Process: Legitimate Vs. Authoritarian Policy making	49
2.1.3 (a)	From Policy oriented Governance to Dominant Governance (1971-1975)	49
2.1.3 (b)	Authoritarian Militarism (1976-1990)	51
2.1.3 (c)	Legitimate Regimes with Donor Dependence (1990-2011)	52
2.1.4	Aid Dependence and Policy Making in Bangladesh (1971-2011)	54
2.1.5	Constitutional mandate and Depoliticization of Policy making	58
2.1.6	Endogenization of Policy making for ownership and Accountability of Politicians to the State	60
2.1.7	Donor's Legitimate Domain	62
2.1.8	Conclusion	63
	References	65
Chapter-3	NGOs in Development: Myths and Realities in Bangladesh	67
3.1.1	Abstract	67
3.1.2	Introduction	67

3.1.3	Myths and Realities of Development role of NGOs in Bangladesh: Development for whom?	68
3.1.3.1	Development Efforts as a creation of Imperialists Hegemony in Rural Areas	68
3.1.3.2	From humanitarian Assistance to Development NGO: Old wine in new bottles	69
3.1.4	The Problem of coordination in Socio-Political context of Bangladesh: The GO-NGO Interference	72
3.1.4.1	NGO activities in different political regimes	72
3.1.5	Tension between GO-NGO: An analysis	75
3.1.6	Development at stake: NGOs in Development Vs. Government in Development?	76
3.1.6.1	Aid and Grant to NGOs and Government: A comparative analysis	76
3.1.6.2	Development by NGOs and Government: Whose fault, whose responsibility?	79
3.1.7	NGOs in Development for the poorest peoples or for their own development?	80
3.1.7.1	Development from within: Development for the poorest peoples or development of the NGO owners?	80
3.1.7.2	Development Myths: Development of the poorest peoples or development of western hegemony?	82
3.1.8	Development and Pseudo development by the NGOs	84
3.1.9	NGO sustainability and the Tax policy	84
3.1.10	Development and Pseudo development by the NGOs in Bangladesh	85
3.1.10.1	Poverty Alleviation: Myths and Realities	85
3.1.10.2	State within a state: NGOs as second government	86
3.1.10.3	Myths and Realities of development by the NGOs	87
3.1.11	Concluding Remarks	91
	References	92
Chapter-4	The Dilemma of Civil Society and Governance (Is Civil Society a partner or a Competitor: The study of civil society in ensuring governance in Bangladesh)	95
4.1.1	Abstract	95
4.1.2	Introduction	95
4.1.3	Civil society and good governance: The dilemma in definition	96
4.1.4	The criminalization and corruptions in politics and scope of civil society in governance	98
4.1.5	Political conflicts and scope of civil society members into governance	100
4.1.6	The blame game in politics and the failure in governance: Who is to be blamed?	101
4.1.7	The non-existent of existence of parliamentary governance and civil society	103
4.1.8	Civil society and Governance: The theoretical inter linkages	108
4.1.9	Civil Society: Competitor or partner in ensuring good governance in Bangladesh?	108
4.1.10	Concluding remarks	112
	References	114
Chapter-5	Shaping globalization: A challenge for the 21 st century Bangladesh	117
5.1.1	Abstract	117
5.1.2	Introduction	117
5.1.3	Capitalist Globalization's Current State: Rhetoric and Reality	118
5.1.3.1	Economic Globalization, Free Market ad Competitive Economy	118
5.1.3.2	Globalization and world trade	118
5.1.3.3	Globalization as an attack on democracy	119
5.1.4	Globalization and Bangladesh Experience	120
5.1.4.1	Impact on national economy	120
5.1.4.2	Impact on Bangladesh politics	121

5.1.4.3	Impact on family and society	122
5.1.5	Shaping globalization	123
5.1.5.1	Creative Institution and Charismatic leaderships	123
5.1.5.2	Institutional Innovation and Agenda	123
5.1.5.3	Integration on global economy	123
5.1.5.4	Establishment on Viable global governance	124
5.1.5.5	Shaping development and democracy	124
5.1.6	Conclusion	124
	References	125
Chapter-6	Scenario Building of Political Conflicts (Building Future scenario of political conflicts of Bangladesh)	127
6.1.1	Abstract	127
6.1.2	Introduction	127
6.1.3.	Background	128
6.1.4	History of political conflicts of Bangladesh	129
6.1.5	The driving forces of changes in conflicts in Bangladesh politics	130
6.1.5.1	Culture of conflicts and violence in local political parties	130
6.1.5.2	Regional politics of India and other neighbors	132
6.1.5.3	Global Political scenario and its influences in Bangladesh	133
6.1.5.4	Role of international donors and their role in local politics	134
6.1.6	The scenario method	136
6.1.7	Developing model of politics for Bangladesh	137
6.1.7.1	Is there a model existing in the politics of Bangladesh?	137
6.1.7.2	Contextualizing the politics Model of Bangladesh and vision 2050	138
6.1.8	Concluding remarks	140
6.1.9	References	142
Chapter-7	The Politics of Climate Change(The controversy over global warming, climate gate, climate change and Bangladesh: The true lies)	143
7.1.1	Abstract	143
7.1.2	Introduction	143
7.1.3	Possible impacts of climate change in Bangladesh	144
7.1.4	The global climate change controversy and the true lies	144
7.1.5	Global warming and the controversy	146
7.1.6	The realities of global warming and climate change	150
7.1.7	The climate gate and climate change	154
7.1.8	The myths of climate change and real scenarios of Bangladesh	157
7.1.9	Concluding Remarks	167
	References	169
Conclusion		173
References and Bibliography		178